Key Knowledge and Concepts

Friends can: stop us from feeling lonely; share good and bad times; understand and support us.

Friends do things together such as play together; go home together; share toys.

To make new friends I could: introduce myself; say 'Hello' and 'Can I be your friend?'; ask him/her if he/she wants to play; ask his/ her name.

Friendships might change if: your friend has moved away, if you have fallen out with your friend; if you don't want to play with them any more.

Solving a problem with a friends means I need to: recognise the feelings, take turns to say how they feel using 'I' language, see if you can agree on something to try.
